Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 13 April 2005.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings filed on 4/13/05 have been accepted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5, 8-12, 15, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fischer et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,209,424).

Fischer et al discloses a recording tape cartridge comprising a case having a substantially boxed shape, a recessed portion 64 on an upper surface of the case, stacking ribs (col. 3, lines 32-37) on a lower surface of the case, and a protruding portion (col. 3, lines 42-52) formed at a position in the recessed portion so as not to interfere with stacking ribs when cartridges are stacked. The protruding portion defines a label region since this area is intended to receive a label. In addition, any label no larger than the recessed portion may be placed anywhere within the recessed portion without interfering with the stacking of cartridges.

With regard to claims 3, 5, 10, and 12, the protruding portion as disclosed is seen to have a frame shape since a frame may have the disclosed shape.

With regard to claims 4 and 11, the protruding portion is formed of a plurality of integral protruding members.

With regard to claims 5 and 12, the protruding portion does not have corner portions because it tapers to the edges 66 of recessed portion 64.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6, 7, 13, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fischer et al in view of Morita et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,717,771).

Fischer et al is described above.

Fischer et al does not disclose that the stacking ribs have a surface that is chamfered.

Morita et al teaches providing stacking ribs of a tape cartridge with rounded or chamfered surfaces (col. 12, lines 36-39; Figs. 8A, 8B).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the stacking ribs of Fischer et al with chamfered surfaces all around as taught by Morita et al to facilitate stacking, eliminate sharp or easily damages edges, and facilitate molding of the cartridge case.

With regard to claims 7 and 14, Morita et al appears to teach stacking ribs having a chamfered surface with a circular arc cross section. In any case, it would have been obvious to provide the chamfered surfaces with cross sections in the form of circular arcs since this is an old and well known manner in which to make rounded edges.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 4/13/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Fischer et al does not disclose a protruding portion that extends in a substantially perpendicular direction from a bottom surface of the recessed portion and has a substantially frame shape in a plane view.

However, the central portion of recessed portion 64 of Fischer protrudes from the bottom surface. It is raised above the bottom surface in a direction perpendicular to the most recessed region 66 of the recessed portion 64. The shape of the protruding portion is seen to have a frame shape since a frame can take a wide range of shapes including that of the protruding portion of recessed portion 64.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
